Amos D. Moscrip Jr.

Amos D. Moscrip Jr., former deputy chief of the Training Division of the Central Intelligence Agency, was killed Thursday when the car he was driving ran off the road at Eagle Bridge, N. Y.

Mr. Moscrip, 44, an elected supervisor of Eagle Bridge, was driving home from a Christmas party when the accident occurred.

After he left CIA in 1950, Mr. Moscrip was an inspector with the Office of Price Stabilization. During the Second World War he was in intelligence work in Burma and China.

He is survived by his mother and his wife, Lorna, and a son, Amos D. III, all in New York.

The funeral will be at 2 p. m. Monday in Cambridge, N. Y.
